Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2474956A1] The transporting unit (1) has a conveyor belt (6) that is assigned to a detector unit (4) for detecting a rear goods edge (9) of goods (5). A control unit interacts with a marking unit and the detector unit such that a locking area (18) is formed between a front supporting area (15) and a rear supporting area (16). An independent claim is also included for a method for dividing a goods support surface of a conveyor belt of transporting unit in multiple supporting areas.
