Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2476342A1] The furniture (10) has a leaning portion (44) with back portion (14), whose height is adjustable between seating position and rest position by inclination adjustment of its seat surface (46) between seating position and inoperative position. The back portion and seat portion (16) are coupled to one another, such that adjustment of the back portion effects an adjustment of seat portion and/or vice versa.
