Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2481315A1] The element e.g. snowboard shoe (1), has an upper (3) with a cover (14) having a lateral quarter part (21) and a medial quarter part connected to an external sole (2) at lateral and medial sides (6, 7). A reversible locking device of the quarter parts includes a lace extended between an attached element attached to the cover and a free end. Two reversible blocking devices e.g. blocker loops, are connected to the cover. One of the blocking devices blocks the subdivision of the lace located between the other blocking device and the free end in a reversible manner.
