Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2487663A1] The remote control device (1) comprises a housing that accommodates one keyboard having keys (4-8) for inputting control commands and another keyboard (16) for input of letters or other characters. The keyboard (16) is displaced relative to other keyboard, between two limit positions. An output signal as a function of displacement position of keyboard (16), is provided by a sensor. Transmission units are provided for transmitting coded signals, by activation of output signal of sensor. The keys (4-7) are assigned as a function of output signals of sensor.
