Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2497353A1] The mowing disc (20) has a mower blade (22), and a holder (30) that is arranged corresponding to a hole (34) that is penetrated through the mower blade. The inner region (48) of mower blade is covered and the outer region (50) is exposed. A designed portion of mower blade adjacent to outer region corresponding to the hole formed in mower blade, is set with maximum permissible wear associated with the holder, such that the designed portion is covered. The designed portion is visible when the holder is set with maximum wear.
