Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2505950A1] The carrier i.e. skid (10), has left and right seated support bases (16a, 16b) partially formed from material e.g. aluminum metal foam and/or plastic foam and/or ceramic foam, with cellular structures (34, 36). The material exhibits closed cavities as the cellular structures. A section of the support bases is formed as a composite component made of the material, hollow profiles (32), a wear resistant sliding surface, a lower flange and an upper flange. The composite component is made of steel and aluminum metal foam. An independent claim is also included for a system for thermal treatment of an object.
