Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2011067662A1] The object of this invention is a garment hanger (1) comprising a warming block (3) provided with drawing (34) and heating (32, 33) means of an air flow suitable for warming and/or drying the garments hung thereon. The garment hanger (1) is fixed to the wall by a fixing block (2) and the warming block (3) thereof is covered by a cover (4) provided with first (41) passages for the inlet of said air flow therein and second (42) passages for the outlet thereof towards said hung garments. The particular arrangement of said first (41) and second (42) passages defines a zone (45) on the cover (4) that serves as rest and support for properly hung garments for the warming and/or drying thereof.
