Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2511465A2] The method involves providing an end profile (1) with a surface- or concealed fabric (14) at its upper profile flange (5) and positioning an end profile with the attachment of the concealed fabric to a window reveal (21) in the brickwork. The end profile is fixed on the lower window parapet (19) over its lower profile flange (6). The end profile is plastered with the plastering of the window reveal. A window sill is inserted in the end profile. An independent claim is included for an end profile with a longitudinal edge.
