Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2011082877A1] The invention relates to a vehicle (100) for transporting plate-shaped goods in at least a substantially upright position, particularly for transporting flat glass panes or flat glass pane packets (1) between a bearing frame comprising an elongated floor carrier (14) and a transport container (15), having a wheeled chassis (5) comprising a motorized drive, and having a carrier (10) comprising at least two carrying protrusions (43, 43') having a variable horizontal spacing, wherein the carrier can be moved from a travel position approximately symmetrically to the center longitudinal axis L of the vehicle (100) to a lateral receiving/depositing position protruding laterally over the chassis (5) around at least the horizontal extension of the plate-shaped goods, wherein the chassis (5) is suitably configured to travel over the floor carrier (14) in the longitudinal direction thereof and all wheels (6, 6'; 7) are arranged in a steerable manner.
