Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2011070383A1] A collapsible and folding showcase for exhibiting products is disclosed. The showcase comprises a base with at least three sides, each side having two extremes, each extreme being jointed to another extreme of another side thereby forming corners between the extremes. The showcase also comprises a top with at least three sides, each side having two extremes, each extreme being jointed to another extreme of another side thereby forming corners between the extremes. The showcase further comprises at least three posts, each post having a lower end and an upper extreme, wherein each post is coupled to a corner of the base through the lower extreme of the post and to a corner of the top through the upper extreme of the post, wherein the posts couple with one another, forming a shelf base. The showcase further discloses a shelf which rests between the posts and upon the shelf base.
