Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2520732A1] The tool (1) has a flat rear gripping part (2) connected to a handle (3) and a front introduction part (4) in a rail, where the front part has a U shaped surface. The front part has flat strip (6) and a strip (10) on two sides of a reception slot (5) that receives an edge of stretched false wall sheet. The flat strip is delimited by a curved free edge (7) and side edges, and the strip includes a flat part (11) delimited by side edges (12, 13) and extended above a front fold by an inclined part. The curved free edge and the front fold extend continuously on two sides of opening of the slot.
