Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2527110A1] In an edgebanding machine for panels made of wood or of a material similar to wood, there is an operating unit having a copying device (6) that follows the edge of the panel to position a tool (4) in relation to the edge. The copying device has two feeling wheels (7) mounted on a movable supporting element (8), which is in turn mounted on an articulated parallelogram structure (12).
