Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2529645A2] The device has a cover (1) for partially closing a drinking opening. A holder is connected with the cover and has an outer cover edge (8), a cover opening and a slot (7) extending between the cover opening and the edge. The holder has a disk-shaped ring segment (2) with an opening (4) to retain a drinking straw. The segment is arranged such that the segment partially closes the cover opening in a condition in which the straw is extended through the cover opening, where the straw is connected with an inner edge (6) of the segment in a frictionally engaged manner in the condition.
