Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1674161A2] The atomizer has a bell-shaped plate provided as a spraying body and including a hub portion (55), which is screwed into an external thread of a centering ring (55') provided in an internal threaded of a shaft of a drive motor. An end portion of the ring includes another external thread (54'), which abuts against another internal thread (53') of the shaft when the plate unscrews from the thread (53) during the operation of the plate.
