Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2012076195A1] The method for packaging products in tubular net provide for performing the closing by means of welding of the ends of a tract of tubular net (21) inside of which is introduced the product (2) to be packaged. At said ends of the tract of tubular net (21), at the zones of closing by means of welding, are attached the ends of a couple of ribbons (22, 23) of thermoplastic material, extending longitudinally with respect to the same tract of tubular net (21). The ribbons (22, 23) of thermoplastic material are arranged above and at the bottom of the packaged product (2).
