Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1684552A2] The method involves manual operation of switch (4) in order to apply supply voltage (3) as control signal to a control input of the operating equipment. The control signal is evaluated and stored or deleted depending upon the functionality of operating equipment. Independent claims are also included for the following: (A) Ballast device for illuminant; and (B) Electronic ballast for gas discharge lamp.
