Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2543803A2] The connecting rod (6) has two connecting rod sections (9,10) and two coupling sections of the connecting rod sections lying over one another in a fitting groove with a form-fit connection. The coupling section of one of the connecting rod sections has cutting- or embossing edges arranged transverse to intended movement direction of the connecting rod. The connecting rod sections are connected with each other by a latching connection.
