Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2011110272A1] The invention relates to a pack for cigarettes, having pack contents, in particular a cigarette group (11), enclosed in the manner of a tubular-bag pack by an outer wrapper (12), in particular made of preferably aroma-tight and moisture-tight, thermally sealable sheet material. The invention provides that the outer wrapper (12) has a repeated-use opening means (13), and that the pack contents are covered, at least in certain regions, by a collar (26) made of material which can be subjected to heat and pressure, the collar being in the form of an inner blank which extends over the entire length of the pack contents. The invention also relates to a suitable method and corresponding apparatuses for producing such packs.
