Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2546159A1] The reclosable container comprises a lid (3) with breaking points, and a cover (1) with a tong (1d), with which the lid is pressed in an area between the breaking points by tilting or overturning to deblock an opening (3b). The cover is shifted, such that the deblocked opening (3b) is closed. A small plate with a recess is provided at the lid, where the small plate is connected with a connecting part (2), particularly a rivet and with the lid and is displaced along the recess relative to the lid.
