Abstract (en)

The stackable platform (20) comprises a support plate (21) made of wood, plastic, paper, cardboard and/or paperboard material, having an opening (3) to which a hollow frustoconical foot element (4) made of wood, plastic, paper, cardboard and/or paperboard material, is fixed through grip force. The opening is defined between the top portion and the bottom portion of the support plate, such that frictional connection is produced by the interference fit between the cut surface of the support plate and the surface area of foot element.
