Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2011124137A1] A hair styling iron comprises a pair of hinged elongate jaws (10, 11) having complementary hair-engaging surfaces (16, 19) configured to hold and engage hair therebetween. The iron is motorized for rotating or vibrating at least one of the jaws (10, 11). At least one elastomeric rib (20, 20a) extends along one of the hair-engaging surfaces (16, 19), and allows the user to readily modulate the hair-gripping force.
