Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2559801A1] The machine (1) has a caustic solution container (3) arranged in a housing (2), and a drum (4) rotatably mounted in the container. The caustic solution container comprises a caustic solution container outlet (5), where wash liquor is pumped out over the container outlet by a discharge pump (6). A lifting body seal comprises a spherical hollow body (7), where the spherical hollow body has a partial inner space filled with flowable material e.g. liquid or pourable powder material. Ball halves are welded with one another. The liquid is water or oil.
