Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2565325A1] The steam ironing machine (1) has an ironing board (2) to which a pillar (4) is attached. A removable water tank (6) is arranged in the pillar for supplying water to a steam generator (5) arranged in a docking port. A valve structure is attached to bottom of the water tank through a spring and is movable between open and close positions. A water filter is inserted into docking port, for filtering water in water tank. The water tank and water filter are removable when valve structure is in open position.
