Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2570047A1] The element has a set of supporting units (2, 3) that is adapted to support a respective bottle (51) i.e. wine bottle. A connection unit or spacer (4) is arranged to bind the display element in a service configuration at a suspension unit such as table. The supporting units and the connection unit are arranged such that the bottle is placed in a respective oblique position when the element of a display unit (1) is in the service configuration. The supporting units are distributed around the connection unit. An independent claim is also included for a display unit.
