Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2581513A2] The spacer (1) has a base part (2), on which the article is fixed, and a holder (5), which is fixed to a wall (17) protruding from the wall and to which the base part is fixed with a distance from the wall. A thermally insulating connector (3) is provided, which connects the base part with the holder. The base part has a thermally insulating material. The spacer has a space adjustment of the base part from the wall. The holder has a thread (14) and the connector has a counter thread for adjusting the distance of the base part from the wall.
