Abstract (en)
The invention relates to a portable sheet product dispenser (1) for dispensing a strip of a sheet product, comprising a container for accommodating a source (5) of sheet product and a dispensing piece (4) to be removably inserted into an opening (33) of the container in at least two different states, wherein in a one state the dispensing piece (4) protrudes outwardly from the container such that a dispensing opening (42) is elevated from an outer surface of the container, and wherein in another state the dispensing piece (4) protrudes inwardly into the container. The dispensers (1) allow providing a dispensing opening so that withdrawal of a sheet product is facilitated. Furthermore, the portable dispenser (1) can be set into a compact configuration to gain space during delivery and transportation.
