Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2589700A1] The cabinet has a hook (16) arranged at a neck region (14) of a clothes hanger (12). Shoulder carriers (15) are laterally distant from the neck region. Fastening units e.g. rods, are arranged in a usage chamber. The clothes hanger is hanged with the hook in an utilizable position. The clothes hanger comprises a neck opening (17) in the neck region. The neck region of the clothes hanger is provided in an air flow such that the neck opening in the neck region passes air coming from top through ventilation holes into the usage chamber. The neck opening is in a form of a honeycomb. An independent claim is also included for a method for operating a laundry treatment cabinet.
