Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2594678A1] The machine (1) has a hydraulic water distribution circuit connecting a washing tub (3) and a washing and/or rinsing water tank (6). The water distribution circuit includes a water circulation pipe (10) with a high point (25) formed between the water tank and the washing tub. The high point includes a passage opening (42) for transfer of wash water between the water tank and the washing tub, and vice versa. The water tank includes a venting device (26) in fluid communication with the passage opening of the water circulation pipe inside the water tank.
