Abstract (en)

A cabinet for tobacconists' and similar retail shops comprises a frame (10) with two side walls (14, 16) and several superposed, parallel shelves (24, 26, 28) extending between the side walls and intended to carry rows of boxes or packets. The shelves consist in respective flat boards each having a front parapet (28) extending upward from its front edge, and the front of each shelf (24, 26, 28) is staggered back with respect to the front of the immediately underlying shelf by at least the thickness of one box or packet, so that the first box or packet in each row will project and be easy to grasp.
