Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2599722A1] The bottle case (2) has timber (4) which is freely moved between base (8) and predetermined height by a stopper, from the base and is biased elastically by plastic pressure spring. The resilient bias is selected, so that the timber is pressed onto base when a predetermined load such as bottle assembly (10) is set on timber. A guide column is fitted between bottles (6) that are arranged close to each other in rectangular composite.
