Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2601878A2] The dishwasher has a spraying system which is provided in a rinsing chamber and provided with rotatably mounted spray arm (1). The spray arm has a distribution chamber (14) which is fluidically connected to the drive nozzles (8,9). The drive nozzles are provided for rotary drive of spray arm in right direction and left direction, respectively. A control unit is movably arranged within the distribution chamber, for alternately controlling the drive nozzle for rotary drive of spray arm in left direction and the drive nozzle for rotary drive of spray arm in right direction.
