Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2602205A1] The case (1) has a foldable blank (2) that comprises a strip (3). The strip surrounds the blank in a longitudinal direction (D). Two flaps (31, 32) are movable relative to a bottom (30) of the case. Each of two bearing surfaces (51, 52) is allowed to receive one of the flaps in an unfolded position. A foldable structure (4) is movable so as to be folded between a flat folded position and a stable unfolded position. The foldable structure is folded about a folding pleat that is arranged relative to the longitudinal direction. The pleat defines an edge of a base surface. The blank is made of rubber or plastic.
