Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2607592A2] The fitting (11) has a damper (43) e.g. oil damper, attenuating movement of a movable furniture piece. The damper has an incidence surface (46) on which an application element (48) is impinged for introduction of a damping effect. The application element is equipped with an application surface (47) and formed at the fitting or at a furniture body (12). The incidence surface is provided during absence of the application element in an attenuation start position (49). An adjustment part i.e. pivotal lever, adjusts the attenuation start position and is attached to the damper.
