Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2607703A1] The centrifugal pump (1) comprises a pump stage (2), a housing portion (3) having a suction connection (5), another housing portion (6) having a pressure connection (7), an intermediate housing portion (10), which delimits a channel (11) in sections leading to a pressure side of the pump stage, and a third housing portion (20). The intermediate housing portion and the latter housing portion are configured to be arranged in two different positions corresponding to the former and the third housing portions.
