Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2012028487A1] A mattress (1) has a frame (2) which is formed from an elastic material and bounds an interior (3) laterally. The interior (3) contains at least two elastic spacer textiles (4 to 15), which can each be released from the frame (2) and from one another. The mattress (1) is very comfortable to lie on, and the modular construction means that it can be cleaned in a conventional washing machine.
