Abstract (en)

[origin: DE102012100443B3] The fitting has two flaps (1, 2) swingably connected with one another around a common axis and spring loaded against each other by a spring i.e. spiral spring (14) such as a flat spring. A pot-shaped cover (16) surrounds the spring, and force effect of the spring is transferred to one of the flaps (1). The cover is fixed at the flaps by a central bolt (11) that is guided along a pivotal axis. The bolt comprises a multi-edge connector (12), which is fixed with respect to the flap (1). The flap (1) comprises a fixing element (6) for fastening the connector.
