Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2620712A2] The device has a securing unit (10) comprising a lower region (11) that is inserted into a U-shaped receptacle (31) of bracket (30). A lower edge (42) of an attachment tab (40) is inserted into a bottom groove (12) formed in the securing element. The attachment tab is partially enclosed by securing element for preventing rising of attachment tab. A counter-holder (20) is connected with bracket through securing element for securing receptacle of bracket, such that bracket is detachably attached to securing element by fitting and hooking.
