Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2623422A1] A packing unit of a shrink packing system which shortens time required for a packing process. For this purpose, the packing unit includes four supporters arranged at both sides of a transfer conveyer, two elevators combined with the four supporters so as to be upwardly and downwardly movable, and four telescopic arms combined with the two elevators so as to be movable in the moving direction of the transfer conveyer and to be extensible and retractable in the lengthwise direction.
