Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2623435A1] The stackable pallet container has a screen outer jacket portion (3) surrounding a plastic inner container (2). The outer jacket portion is provided with a horizontal lattice bar (6) and a vertical lattice bar (7) which are connected at an intersection region (8) forming a lattice structure. A vertically extending stiffener is formed by a profile portion (9) which is secured at a side surface of screen cladding portion to project to the inner container and is opened outwards. A recess facing the inner container is provided at an upper end of the profile portion.
