Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2626212A2] The saddle stitcher has clincher box (1) attached with guide element. The clincher box and guide element are attached to a clincher plate by using a clamping element (6). The chamfer (19) of the clamping element is latched with the groove on the surface at the rear side of the clincher plate. The protruding bar of the clamping element is matched with groove of the clincher plate. The clamping element tightly connected to clincher box or guide element, is detachably attached to clincher plate.
