Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2626313A1] The tray (1) has a lower frame (2), an upper frame (9), and a bottom wall (4) that is supported by the lower frame. A set of movable side walls (5-8) is articulated with the upper frame between a position drawn up with regard to the bottom wall, and a position that is folded up flat with regard to the bottom wall. A set of locking units (12, 14) is utilized for marking a set of positions in the drawn up position and in the folded up position, where the tray is able to be stored in the drawn up position and in the folded up position.
