Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2631383A2] Building extension (1) consisting of two longitudinal supports ((4), (5)) lying at a distance and cross supports (6) mounted between them. The lower longitudinal support (5) is supported with columns (3) and the higher longitudinal support (4) is mounted to the facade (2) by means of an auxiliary profile (10). The auxiliary profile extends over the length of the higher longitudinal support and the unevenness of the facade is compensated by mounting on the auxiliary support a fastening profile (11) which is movable over a given distance and with which the higher longitudinal support is fastened to the auxiliary support. The higher longitudinal support is preferably provided with a space for the accommodation therein of a cloth roll (15) and the cloth (8) can move over the cross supports. The associated tensioning mechanism is accommodated in the cross support.
