Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2639394A2] The strip (1) has a first side surface (6.1) associated with a plane (E1), and a second side surface (6.2) associated with another plane (E2), where the planes intersect with each other. A third side surface (6.3) is extended in a longitudinal direction and arranged within a virtual parallelepiped (7). A through hole is designed as a stepped bore for receiving a fastening part. The through hole is vertical or approximately vertical to the first side surface. The fastening part fastens the strip at a wall. Independent claims are also included for the following: (1) a window border for a window opening of a wall construction (2) a wall construction.
