Abstract (en)
The invention refers to a container with a double cover, which is designed to be filled with liquid or thick food product which is rapidly prepared, preferably soup. Also, the invention refers to the method of production of the container with a double cover, where the container has a double cover (2) which consists of the upper cover (2a) and the lower cover (2b), where the upper cover (2a) has a tongue (4) designed to tear off the aforementioned upper cover, and the lower cover (2b) has a hole (3) in a shape of an elongated oval designed for the consumption of the product. Prior to the consumption the upper cover (2a) is torn off while the lower cover (2b) remains to cover the container.
