Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2657434A2] The shelter (A) has a set of roof modules (M1, M2, M3) that is movable or immovable for controlling access to a swimming pool (B). The roof modules are made of reinforcement of sections supporting a cover. The reinforcement of sections includes a pair of cross-beams that is placed above the basin and is braced by a set of cross-pieces. A set of slip shoes adopt a longitudinal side including a set of reception rabbets. The shoes adopt another longitudinal side having the shape of flat sections with protuberant edges authorizing longitudinal slip in the sections and ensuring side reserve.
