Abstract (en)
A base for display units, comprising: - a box body (2) having a closed side wall (3), a top part (4) designed to define a resting surface for one or more display units, and a bottom part (5); - a plurality of foot formations (11, 12, 13, 14), associated to the bottom part of the aforesaid box body, and designed to rest on the floor and to keep the aforesaid base with its bottom part detached therefrom; and - a set of reinforcement panels (15), for supporting the aforesaid top part, which are arranged within the aforesaid box body and are substantially orthogonal to the aforesaid top part. The base is characterized in that it comprises: - a first reinforcement panel (15) having opposite lateral sectors folded so as to form a first foot formation and a second foot formation of the aforesaid plurality of formations; and - a second reinforcement panel (15) having opposite lateral sectors folded so as to form a third foot formation and a fourth foot formation of the aforesaid plurality of formations, and in that: the aforesaid foot formations (11, 12, 13, 14) are tubular in shape and extend in a direction substantially parallel to the aforesaid side wall (3), as far as underneath the aforesaid top part (4), so as to be able to support it.
