Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2013034382A1] The invention relates to a device (1) for heating and drying a good (11) having an electrical isolation and to a method for heating and drying a good (11). The device (1) has an autoclave (10) into which a gaseous heating medium can be introduced. The gaseous heating medium remains in a gaseous state during the heating process, wherein the gaseous heating medium is an inert gas.
