Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2012100889A1] The invention relates to a film that has polymer fibers that are welded to one another at least at the points of intersection between the pores, in particular heat-welded, solvent-welded, cold-welded, ultrasonic-welded, and/or at least partly fused to one another or connected to one another in a force-fitting or form-fitting manner. The invention also relates to a method for producing said film and to the use thereof.
