Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2012101370A1] The invention relates to a device (1) for displaying information, having: at least one first vertical upright (2), which extends along an axis (20) and is intended to be anchored to and/or in the ground (3); a horizontal cross member (4), which extends from the first vertical upright (2) and is provided with means (40) for holding at least one information support (5), in particular a banner (50), a streamer or the like; and means (6) for mounting the cross member (4) on the first upright (2), said means (6) having a means (7) for mounting said cross member (4) such that it can move longitudinally with respect to said first upright (2) and also a means (8) for mounting said cross member (4) such that it can rotate with respect to said first upright (2), specifically according to an axis parallel to the axis (20) of extension of said first upright (2). Said display device (1) is characterized in that it also has a second vertical upright (12) which extends along an axis (120) parallel to the extension axis (20) of the first upright (2), is intended to be anchored to and/or in the ground (3) and is provided with means (121) for holding a free end (45) of the cross member (4), said free end being opposite a first end (41) of said cross member (4) mounted on the first upright (2) by way of mounting means (6), specifically in the service position of the cross member (4).
