Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2682693A2] The appliance (102) has an ice dispenser (112) or a water dispenser (114), where a water guide surface is assigned to the ice dispenser or the water dispenser, for conducting melting or dripping water into a collecting trough. The water guide surface forms a rear wall of the ice dispenser or the water dispenser. The water guide surface is externally concave, and includes a slope leading to the water collecting trough, where a cover is associated with the water collecting trough.
